

USER REVIEW – “App Title”

Sprint “_”: Story “_” : Story Title.

User: Name

Position: Position or title goes here

Feedback:

1. Feedback Element One:

- What is this screen showing you? What is it intended for?
- What questions can be answered with the data being shown?
- What would you do with this feature?

This is the area where you add the details and descriptions surrounding this feedback element from the user. The feedback will be used to inform the team in a useful way for the story. It may drive changes or discussions to change at a later date. It can also be positive feed back which is good to know as well.

2. Feedback Element Two:

- What is this screen showing you? What is it intended for?
- What questions can be answered with the data being shown?
- What would you do with this feature?

This is the area where you add the details and descriptions surrounding this feedback element from the user. The feedback will be used to inform the team in a useful way for the story. It may drive changes or discussions to change at a later date. It can also be positive feed back which is good to know as well.

3. Feedback Element Three:

- What is this screen showing you? What is it intended for?
- What questions can be answered with the data being shown?
- What would you do with this feature?

This is the area where you add the details and descriptions surrounding this feedback element from the user. The feedback will be used to inform the team in a useful way for the story. It may drive changes or discussions to change at a later date. It can also be positive feed back which is good to know as well.